Papirny wins Oilmen's

Metro Papirny, an oilfield consultant from Edmonton, shot a 3-over-par, one-under-par and a 2-over-par to win the Championship Flight of this weekend's 10th Annual Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament. The former Elk Point resident edged out his closest rivals, Tom Parenteau and Pat Nairn, by a single stroke, and said that the group "was so good, I just had no choice but to play well." He accepted a trophy putter donated by Highland Corod, who also donated hats for all the flight winners. Parenteau and Nairn tossed a coin to break their tie, giving Nairn second prize and Parenteau third, while Art Britton placed fourth.

The winners of flights, with trophy sponsor in brackets, are as follows: FIRST FLIGHT - Phil Shankowski (BMW Pump Inc.) 2. Dale Appleton, 3. Craig Stone, 4. Brian Anderson.

SECOND FLIGHT - Clarence Romanick (N. Loisele Well Servicing), 2. Mike Dalton, 3. Allan Elliot, 4. Art Scott.

THIRD FLIGHT - Eldon Heck (Stanchuk Trucking), 2. Kevin Rothernburger, 3. Dave Addie, 4. Perry Bateman fourth.

FOURTH FLIGHT - Gord Henry (Core Laboratories), 2. Joe MacKinnon, 3. Lorn Berg, 4. David Lychak.

FIFTH FLIGHT - John Krysko (Lanco Well Servicing), 2. Brian MacKinnon, 3. John Yakemchuk, 4. Bob McKay.

SIXTH FLIGHT - Greg Thompson (Petrolite Canada), 2. Ken Carreau, 3. Ted Yarmuch, 4. W. Gubbis.

SEVENTH FLIGHT - Ken Williams (Leeway Heavy Oil), 2. Ron Denny, 3. David George, 4. Merle James.

EIGHTH FLIGHT - Monty Pottel (Rocky Pine Oilfield Service), 2. Doug Olstad, 3.

Dennis Noel, 4. O'Neil Levesque.

NINTH FLIGHT - Bryan Campbell (Tarsands Steam Cleaning), 2. Tom McDougal, 3. Ian Huffman, 4. Darryl Appleton.

TENTH FLIGHT - Gerry Stephenson (Shamrock Valley Enterprises), 2. Bob Norman, 3. Ed Hardy, 4. Dale Cannard.

ELEVENTH FLIGHT - Al Saulou (Leyen Oilwell), 2. Al Clark, 3. Mel Ryks, 4. Tracy Renschler.

TWELFTH FLIGHT - Harvey Derewynka (Lakeland Oilfield Services), 2. Ken Ference, 4. Walter Hillje. (No third.)

THIRTEENTH FLIGHT - Mike Meyenberg (BJ Trucking), 2. Doug Callbeck, 3. Gordon Keryluk, 4. Doug Bassett.

An excellent array of merchandise prizes were hauled away by the winners, after their fine weekend of golfing and good fellowship.

What's the best kept secret in the Lakeland? Riel Beach!

Riel Beach Country Jamboree celebrated its second annual event this past weekend and for the people who tried the new venue, it was a rare treat. Where else can you stroll along miles of pebbled beach beside crystal clear water and still hear hours and hours of fine music? Where else can you sit out on the lake in your boat, your line in the water, a breeze in your hair and pure country sound in the air? And where else can you lie on the beach at night and watch spectacular fireworks burst out over the deep, dark waters of a pine-fringed lake?

Every seat in the house was the best seat in the house at Riel Beach. The 24-hour security was discreet and effective, the people were friendly and the food was plentiful.

It was an exceptional weekend for families. Grandmas and grandpas sat on lawn chairs under umbrellas, tapping their feet. Granchildren played in the well appointed playground, dug in the sand and splashed in the water. Teenagers played beach volleyball and hung out, and moms and dads had the freedom that outdoor living offers to visit, dance, fish, water ski and swim, all to a country beat.

Watch for further coverage of the Jamboree in next week's issue.

Alberta Ag reviews Ag Society operations

Results of a review of Elk Point Agricultural Society's activities by Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development were released to the public at an information meeting last Thursday which drew over 50 people. It was estimated that approximately three quarters of those in attendance were members of the Society.

The meeting was chaired by Reg Kontz of Alberta Agriculture. Louise Welch of that same department and Colette Miller and Vince Loewen of Wilde, Miller, Tetreau and Luther, the accounting firm which conducted the financial review, also spoke to the gathering.

The review began in May 1992, as a condition of a special grant applied for by the Ag. Society, and was based on concerns expressed by the community in a petition presented to Alberta Agriculture earlier this year as well as the accounting requirements for Agricultural Initiatives funding. Activities governed by the Agricultural Societies Act and by the Ag Sociey's bylaws were reviewed, as were the financial management practices of the Society.

Louise Welch, who works with all of Alberta's 302 agricultural societies, explained the chartering procedures and general objectives for an agricultural society, and guidelines which must be followed to be in good standing as an agricultural society, which Elk Point is at this time. She also gave an overview of the grant structure under which the societies are funded.

Vince Loewen then outlined the financial reports which had been circulated. These statements show that the Ag Society is in a very difficult financial position, and will need to follow stringent financial guidelines to stay in operation. Appropriate procedures had not always been followed, but Loewen said there was "no indication whatsoever" that any funds had been spent on any but Ag Society activities.

Recommendations which resulted from the review in-

Annual horse show this weekend

Charlene Baker
Fairgrounds Chairman

Once again, it's time for the Elk Point Agricultural Society Annual Open Horse Show, on Saturday, August 28. Over the years, this event has grown larger and every year sees another increase in the competitors. The show is a recognized Alberta Equestrian Federation (AEF) Heritage / Bluesky Classic Circuit Show. This means riders are eligible for Provincial Points and recognition at the end of the year.

Prize money is generously sponsored by local businesses with $20 for first, $15 for second, $10 for third and $5 for fourth in each class, with rosette ribbons to sixth place. There are 32 classes this year, with both Junior and Senior divisions.

Along with the usual Western and English classes, this year we have a Fun Jump Class (jumps are no higher than 18") plus the regular Pre-Green Jump Class with jumps no higher than 2'6".

A new class added this year, on request of the Combined Driving Clubs, is a Pleasure Driving Class, along with a Freestyle Reining Demonstration which is a reining pattern done in costume to music.

This year we will also offer the Walk and Trot Class to kids 10 and under just starting to ride. This class is judged on the rider's equitation at the walk and trot.

Back again is the Stick Horse Class for 6 and Under which is very entertaining to watch. Barrel Racing and Pole Bending are also included, with a special Open Barrel Racing Jackpot.

It all promises to be a full day of equestrian events, so if you don't ride, come out and watch. Spectators are welcome and admission is free!

National gold caps successful season

A triumphant Joni Matthews returned from Saskatoon last Thursday, proudly bearing a gold medal and two bronze medals from the National Legion Training Camp in Saskatoon. The gold was a result of her 5.07-metre leap in the 14-and-15-year-old girls' long jump, while the bronzes were for third place finishes in the 400 metres and the medley relay.

The national-level gold culminates a season in which Joni won a total of 30 medals, 23 of them gold, at 12 meets across the three western provinces.

Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion assisted Joni in attending the Provincial Legion Camp earlier this summer, from which she earned three gold medals, and qualified to go to the National Legion Camp. The latter is paid for entirely by the Royal Canadian Legion, and is attended by the top athletes from all the provincial Legion camps.

Joni was most appreciative of the community support she and the NEAT Track Club received during the summer, from the local Legion branch and the many other sponsors that helped her.

What's Happening At COMMUNITY SERVICES

Alberta Family and Social Services has recently implemented a new initiative called "Alberta Community Employment." It is designed to help municipalities and non-profit organizations provide paid work opportunities for people receiving provincial social assistance.

Alberta Community Employment funding is to help you pay the wages of the clients you hire. Your contribution to Alberta Community Employment will be the equipment, materials, supervision, project administration and training you supply. You could also work with a partner to provide these contributions.

You may combine Alberta Community Employment funding with other programs as long as you meet the requirements of each program.

All Alberta Community Employment jobs must be new jobs which do not replace existing workers. Projects can range from employing one person to many people. But all projects must provide Alberta Community Employment employees with between 32 and 40 hours work each week for 12 to 26 weeks.

Alberta Family and Social Services will give priority to projects that teach employees skills they can use in other jobs and which are in demand in the labor market. The intention is to develop on the job experience for these clients.

Application are available from Alberta Family and Social Services in St. Paul or from Elk Point Community Services. Time is running out as applications should be submitted to Family and Social Services no later than Friday, August 27. Call 645-6436 for more information.

SUMMER PLAY

Summer is slowly coming to an end, as is the Summer Play program. Even though the enrollment was extremely low this year, we managed to play games, take field trips, sing and learn new songs, and make a few new friends. I had a lot of fun this summer working with the children, and hopefully with more enrollment this program will continue next year. Thank you to all of those who helped the program this summer. Good luck to all those attending school this fall and I hope you will all be back next summer.

TERRY FOX RUN

The planning for the Terry Fox Run is well underway. The event is being planned to take place on September 19, 1993 and will start and end at the Recreation Park Picnic Shelter.

Participants do not have to run if they don't want to; you can run, walk, ride your bike, use a wheel chair, pull someone in a wagon or push someone in a stroller or wheel chair. This is your chance to challenge a friend or have your business challenge another business. Last year the runners raised $2470, and now the Terry Fox Committee challenges the Elk Point community to meet or beat this amount.

To get your pledge sheets and maps please contact Lynn at 724-3800 or watch the local businesses to pick yours up.

ELK POINT CHILD CARE SERVICES - Child Care Subsidy Available To Low Income Wage Earners

If you are looking for child care and would like to use an approved Family Day Home but feel the cost is too much for your budget, there are a couple of things you can do.

1. Every parent can call the Government office in St. Paul and ask for Penny at 645-6228. Be prepared to give her the total amount you earn each month and she will be able to tell you how much Government Subsidy you would qualify for when you use an approved Family Day Home for your child care.

2. Drop in at the Community Services Office and ask for a booklet entitled "Alberta Child Care Subsidy Program PARENT GUIDE." If, after reading this booklet, you find you have questions, call Deanna Easthope, Coordinator of Elk Point Child Care Services anytime at 724-3933 or on Fridays at the Community Services Office at 724-3800.

has worked as a long term care nurse for seven years. She believes that the special needs of seniors deserve more attention.

"The people we look after are physically and mentally frail. They suffer from the irreversible effects of old age. They're unable to stay in their homes and require constant care. We provide nursing care, rehabilitation and therapy all in a safe and caring atmosphere. The residents count on us for everything."

"Government cuts to long term care are forcing us to provide care with fewer and fewer nurses. My fear is that our patients will be deprived of the health care services that they have worked long and hard for. I am afraid that they will become the forgotten people."

"Our seniors have worked hard to give us the lifestyle we enjoy today. They deserve to be treated with dignity and respect."

NURSE GAIL TYMENS, EDMONTON

ALBERTANS DESERVE A HEALTH CARE SYSTEM THAT PUTS THE NEEDS OF PEOPLE FIRST.

As Canadians, we have the right to expect an affordable, comprehensive level of care, easy access to services and equal treatment regardless of our age, gender, income or race.

ALBERTA nurses believe there are ways of reforming the health care system without jeopardizing its quality. Random cuts are not the answer. We need a plan. Given the chance, nurses could save taxpayers' dollars by providing more community-based health services that focus on care and keeping people well.

NURSES want to help provide a superior health care system to Albertans. But government cuts that close hospital beds, reduce funding to community health services, and lay off staff are hurting a health care system that is the envy of the world.

IN government roundtable talks, nurses will be representing the needs of Albertans in health care reform. ALBERTA NURSES INVITE YOU TO CONSIDER THE DIFFERENCE NURSES CAN MAKE.

FOOD ON EVERY BRANCH - Billie Milholland points out the edible berries festooning this tree beside the trail to the fort sites to visitor Michael Cattle.

A walk on the wild side

There's food in them thar hills! Billie Milholland, who led groups of visitors to Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre on identification hikes each afternoon from August 14 to 20, pointed out an abundance of edible wild plants in the dense vegetation along the trails.

Saskatoons, pin cherries and chokecherries are in abundance, but so are many other nutritious plants. The wild roses hang heavy with their bright red berries, each packed with as much Vitamin C as three oranges, plus Vitamins A, E, K, calcium and phosphorous. They can be eaten fresh, or may be dried, ground in a coffee grinder and sprinkled in porridge, Ms Milholland suggested.

Many wild plants make nutritious and healing teas. The leaves of poplar, birch and willow make a tea which contains a natural acetylic acid, and is also useful as a facial steam. Goldenrod is a mild sedative, and may be mixed with raspberry leaves for a soothing tea. Yarrow produces a general body tonic (as do violet leaves and flowers), and when mixed with willow leaves, makes a soothing mouthwash and gargle.

Hazelnuts, now approaching harvest in their prickly outer coverings, are high in protein and minerals. In fur trade days, the nuts were crushed and placed in lye water, which caused the nut oil to float to the top, where it was removed with a horn spoon and saved for use as a skin ointment or for flavoring food. The mash was collected and made into patties, which when roasted in the fire, became a form of journey cake for eating while travelling.

All parts of fireweed are edible, from the asparagus-like shoots in spring, to the leaves which may be cooked and eaten like spinach, to the core of the stalk, which is high in carbohydrates and makes an excellent emergency food. The flowers can be eaten or made into tea.

Ms Milholland noted that chokecherries make an exceptional cough syrup, and if the unsweetened juice is diluted, it can be used as a skin freshener. Chokecherry and pin-cherry leaves can be added to dill pickles to make them stay crisp.

Also for the skin, the whitish film found on poplar bark is a natural sun screen, while rose petals may be dipped in water for "Mother Nature's band-aids" and a plantain leaf may be crushed and applied to a cut to make it heal faster. Plantain seeds, crushed or soaked overnight, may be put in porridge and are "store-houses of nutrition." Tiny puffballs along the path can be dried until brown, then kept in a cool, dry place for emergencies. The powder found inside the dried puffball works as a blood stopper.

Very few plants found at the site are harmful, except the Baneberry, a short plant with celery-like leaves and either china-white or bright red berries, which are poisonous. The white berries of the dogwood are not harmful but are unpleasant in taste, a real "desperation food," Ms Milholland said.

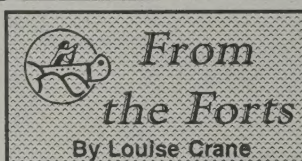

Site marking workshop goes this weekend

The 1993 summer season is grinding to a halt but... activities at the Forts are not. Listed below are three functions that you are invited to, and where we at Fort George / Buckingham House need some assistance.

August 28 and 29, 9 a.m. - 6 p.m.: Ground marking at Fort George - We would like a few hearty souls to help install the demarcation of the buildings that were at Fort George in 1794. David Koshman and the gang from Historic Sites have been working with the operations team that includes myself and Friends of the Forts representative Pat Johnson. They will be taking time out to assist us for the weekend.

Could you bring: rakes, shovels, drills, sawhorses and / or a plate of high energy snacks for coffee breaks? Do you know of any teenagers who need to get rid of the end-of-summer energy?

September 11: Fall Rendezvous - This year, Parks Canada has designated our site as a location for a monument to William Tomison. This puts Buckingham House on the National Historic Monuments site list and gives us national exposure. The agenda is as follows:

12:00 noon - 1:00 p.m. - Black Powder demonstrations

1:00 p.m. - 2:00 p.m. - Dedication by Federal officials, First Nations and Provincial government

2:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. - Northern Lights Metis Dancers, and Homer Poitras Band

3:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. - Reception

3:30 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. - More Black Powder Demonstrations

We will need help to set up the marquee tent, September 10 at 1:00 p.m.; and on September 11: 11:00 a.m. - set up chairs, 12:00 noon - meet and greet VIPs, 1:00 p.m. - meet regular visitors at Centre, 4:00 p.m. - start cleanup. Volunteers, please meet at the Centre September 9 for instructions.

September 14: 7:15 p.m. - Friends of the Forts meeting at the Centre. Anyone needing transportation - the van will leave the Elk Point Tourist Information Centre at 7:00 p.m.

Legion donates to minor ball

Irene Magnusson

President of the Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion No. 151, Louis Verhagen, presented a cheque in the amount of $2000 to Allan Frankiw, secretary-treasurer of Elk Point Minor Ball, on Sunday, August 15 at the Elk Point Recreation Park.

The occasion was a barbecue / picnic, enjoyed annually by members of the Legion and their families, this year,

Compliments to the town

Dear Editor:
Compliments to the Town of Elk Point.

On August 15th, the Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion held their barbecue at the Gazebo at the Recreation Land. We found the Gazebo in an excellent state of repair, clean and very well maintained. The same can be said for the campground.

We salute you.

again, in the gazebo in the camping area of the Park.

The donation is slated to help fund a baseball backstop and fence, where minor ball is played near the Elk Point schools. Originally, the amount was donated to Elk Point Community Services, to fund a baseball players' shelter; this plan was deemed impractical, during vandalism fears, and the cheque was returned to the Legion.

WHAT'S NEWS AT THE LIBRARY?

NEWLYWEDS - Carmen Gulayec and Dan Spitzer were married July 10, 1993 in Elk Point. Carmen is the daughter of Gary and Donna Gulayec. The happy couple are residing in Elk Point.

ETTA SCOTT MARKS 90 YEARS - surrounded by her son Larry and his wife, son-in-law Allan Foss, seven of her nine grandchildren and six of her 19 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Scott lived in the Elk Point area from 1923 until 1938, then moved to Edmonton, returning in 1986 to reside at Heritage Lodge. Her lively humor and avid interest in family activities have kept her young, and she is eager to head off to California for a family wedding in the near future.

Summer reading winds down

The Summer Reading Program has been a great success this year. This week, Gayle and the participants will be holding their windup parties, and their final attempt at cleaning up Ernie's World.

We will be needing VOLUNTEERS for the fall, especially when the girls are finished their work programs. We are looking for mature (over 15), enthusiastic, committed people. If you have a few hours a week to spare, contact Diane Fraess at 724-3737.

For those job hunters, the Library receives the Alberta Bulletin which is a weekly government publication, listing government positions available. You can find the Bulletin in our Consumer Corner.

New Books

These new books should be of interest to our younger readers: Rainy Day Magic by Marie Louise Gay, Now You See Them, Now You Don't and Junk-Pile Jennifer by John F. Green.

In our Youth Section, these new titles sound interesting: RedWork by Michael Bedford, and Hal by Sonia Craddock. The novel RedWork will send chills straight through your bones, and Hal is about a young man responding to the following ad: "King wants hero to rescue his daughter who has been seized by a sea serpent. All expenses paid plus bonus of twenty gold crowns for successful recovery of daughter (alive). Interested heroes apply at the castle."

For our more advanced readers: Duchess of Milan by Michael Ennis, The English

Patient by Michael Ondaatje, The 8-Week Cholesterol Cure by Robert Kowalski and Singer - Quilt Projects By Machine.

In our video section we have these movies now available: South Pacific starring Rossano Brazzi, Mitzi Gaynor and John Kerr; Rebel Without A Cause starring James Dean and Natalie Wood; and Curious George and the Dinosaur for the young at heart. Please remember that an adult library card is required to sign out the videos.

Diane Mudryk finished her work program on August 20, and we will miss her around here. "I would just like to give special thanks to the staff at the library for making my job an enjoyable and eventful one. I will miss you all and I wish you the best in everything you do," said Diane.

cluded improvement of the minutes of meetings and establishment of a uniform rental policy for Society facilities for all users. Separate files and a separate bank account for capital purchases were suggested, as was the improved use of tenders and a routine for cash deposits.

The timing of the Society's Annual Meeting also needs revision to a date prior to December 20 of each year, as per the Agricultural Societies Act.

All capital and discretionary operating spending is to be stopped immediately, with only essential operations to be funded. Finances for the coming year will be "tight, but manageable," the gathering was told, with the exhortation that "if it isn't essential, don't buy it." Regarding the finishing of existing projects, the report recommended that the organization use donated labor and materials only, as the facilities are in operating condition although not totally finished.

Support in principle was given to the Ag Society's plans to set up a management committee which would take over operations of the Elk Point Arena. This would ease the workload of the executive and Board.

Finally, the report recommended that the interim financial statements, as well as future financial statements, be made available to interested parties such as the Town, Society members, the press and Alberta Agriculture, on a timely basis.

Reg Kontz said the Society "certainly has its work cut out for it," both in managing people resources and financial resources, and noted that the support of the community was very important.

No further loans can be taken out without approval of the Agriculture Minister, and operations and capital spending must be on a pay-as-you-go basis. "This spending has to stop," said Colette Miller.

Ag Society President Glenn Harms outlined the 1993-94 budget and cash flow projections, and said he is proud of the fact that money has been efficiently used and properly spent.

Reference was made to the September 7 general meeting of the Society, at which a new president will be elected to replace Harms, who is stepping down. Kontz and Ms Welch were asked if the Department of Agriculture had asked Harms to step down, and were told this had not been the case. Harms told the group "I love this Ag Society, and ...the community, but a president can do more good or more damage than anyone else. So I'm stepping down."

Harms said he plans to stay on the Board and will offer all possible help to the next president.

Mayor Ed Buck said the whole community of Elk Point will "have to look at the whole thing and cooperate to overcome" the present situation. "We're proud in this town and we always pay our bills. We'll have to look at some new angles."

Heads UP.

There's a fine line between safe and sorry.

Electricity is a fact of life. In fact, it's so much a part of everyday life that people forget the potential for accidents. Any contact with overhead power lines or exposed wires can cause serious injury. And underground power lines are equally dangerous to anyone who digs without locating them. Understanding how electricity works can keep you, and those close to you, safe. When it comes to electricity, what you don't know can hurt you. For more information on electrical safety, call your local Alberta Power office.
